Guidelines

Production will not begin until the order form and the design have been confirmed.

The size, position and colour of the designs are approximate and are shown as a guide. However, Orca will attempt to make them as close as possible to the final result.

The design may vary according to the different sizes. The entire design will be calculated based on the smallest size (XS).

It is not guaranteed that design elements coinciding with seams will not be mismatched or cut off.

By placing this order, the customer assures that they have permission to reproduce all the logos provided with the design and also declares that they have the copyrights to the image in the case that they wish to reuse a previous design.

Review the publications, colours and texts carefully. Final approval of the design will be understood as given unless the customer indicates otherwise.

Steps

DESIGN
Design development

ORDER
Completing the order form with the garments, sizes and names, if any.

SHIPPING
5-6 weeks after the last confirmation (order, sample or names), the order will be sent to the recipient.

SAMPLE
If needed, a sample will be sent in 2 weeks.*

NAMES
The itemised list of the garments with the names so that the customer can review and confirm them.

The periods for each step begin once the previous step ends and has been confirmed.

*The customer may make as many changes as they wish, as long as they are all indicated in the same email. If a sample is received and there is no response within 2 weeks' time, the process will continue with the next step and the sample will be understood to be confirmed.
